

Dr. Charlotte K. Frank

Sr. Vice President, Research and Development for McGraw-Hill Education of The McGraw-Hill Companies

Dr. Charlotte K. Frank is Sr. Vice President, Research and Development for McGraw-Hill Education of The McGraw-Hill Companies. One of her responsibilities is to research and develop, where appropriate, the educational activities with the two other segments of the corporation: The Financial Services Sector, including Standard and Poor's, and the Information Services Group that includes BusinessWeek, Aviation Week, Engineering News-Record and Architectural Record. She also represents McGraw-Hill at the National Business Roundtable's Education Taskforce Initiative and coordinates the Harold W. McGraw Jr. Prize In Education for those who have made a difference in education. Dr. Frank is also co-chair with Peter Yarrow (Peter, Paul & Mary) - Operation Respect.

She joined the company in 1988 from a nine year leadership role as Executive Director of the Division of Curriculum and Instruction for the New York City Board of Education where she was also a teacher and supervisor. Dr. Frank has received more than 60 awards for her achievements in education. Most recently, she was one of twenty recipients for the Hunter College Hall of Fame and then one of the seven who was honored to be a Townsend Harris Medalist from the Alumni of the College of the City of New York. She has authored numerous articles and lectured extensively on the critical issues of education and their importance for the business community. Dr. Frank graduated with a B.B.A. from CCNY, a MS.ED. From Hunter College, received her Ph.D. from New York University and is now a N.Y.S. Regent Emerita.